Mom, you are missed and loved more than words can convey. Not a day goes by without thinking of you. I miss your wicked sense of humor and your jokes. You are the very best part of me, and your grace, faith and kindness will live for many generations. Forever in our hearts.

Mary Alice Moore was my great grandmother. She was the most amazing women I knew. She raised her kids, helped raised her daughter's kids, and helped raise my siblings and me. She was a huge part of our lives. She loved to make jokes and laugh and she always enjoyed having visitors and no one left hungry. Heaven definitely gained an amazing angel.

I just want to say how much better you made my life even though you left but that doesn't matter because you came back. When you passed away, a piece of my heart went with you. I was very blessed to have you in my life until my adult hood hit and I was very blessed to be born into your family and call you my great grandmother. I was with you holding your hand when you took your very last breath and I didn't let go of your hand for almost two hours until the funeral home came and took you away. Even though you passed, until the last moments I saw you before the funeral home showed up I still gave you a kiss on the forehead and said I love you. I am honestly speechless of your passing. I may be very sad that you're gone and so is the rest of the family but God said that it was your time to shed your earth suit and become a beautiful angel in the sky. We will always remember you as the kindhearted, loving, mother, grandmother, and great grandmother that you were. We will never forget the good memories that we all had with you, we will cherish those memories in our hearts forever. We celebrate the long life of 90 years that you had on this earth with all of us, but now you are in heaven with Jesus and your family and friends that had already passed. When I was younger I always thought you would never pass away even not to long ago I never even thought that you would pass away at 90 we all thought that you would be 100 before you pass. You were my granny and you will always be my granny. I miss your jokes, your voice, and that great big smile, but most of all I miss our weekend sleepovers where we would just spend time together weather that be us kids staying in and watching tv and eating ice cream with your or go out like to McDonald's' and eat and you and Mema watch us kids play in the jungle gym or go to the park and play, I even miss the birthday party's and most of all the Sunday dinners we had after getting back from church and so many more memories with you. We all love you Granny and we miss you. Forever ❤️
